Whispering Winds Camp & Conference Center is a refuge, a place where youth, individuals, couples, families and groups can get away and experience the beauty of nature. Nestled in the Cuyamaca Mountains, Whispering Winds is located on 161 acres in the scenic Cleveland National Forest, five miles south of the historic gold-mining town of Julian – about an hour's drive from San Diego. We are a tax-exempt, nonprofit corporation. Whispering Winds is open year-round to all.
